

A man with short brown hair, wearing a dark green t-shirt, stands in front of a plain white wall. He is positioned centrally, facing slightly towards the camera. The background is a light-colored, possibly concrete or stone wall. Overlaid on the image is a massive amount of red text. The word 'INTERLINKED' is repeated multiple times in a grid-like pattern across the entire frame. Each word is rendered in a bold, sans-serif font with a thick red outline. The text is oriented both vertically and horizontally, creating a dense, layered effect. The overall composition is a mix of a simple photograph and a graphic design experiment.

Robotic voice

Alarm goes off

